In the 1960's, Jean Paul Metté used to help his neighbour produce eau de vie. This started his passion and motivated him to learn the craft and later, he opened his own distillery. Keeping to traditional methods, Jean Paul Metté first produced classical eau de vie like mirabelle plum and raspberry. He quickly expanded the range by introducing unique eaux de vie like flowers, berries and truffle.

He took his godson Philippe Traber under his wing in the mid-1980's and passed on his passion, knowledge and secrets and who eventually took over on Jean Paul's retirement in 1997. The distillery is located in Ribeauville and is managed by Philippe and Nathalie Traber.

Tasting Notes: Cooked asparagus nose without bitterness slightly. A powerful earthy palate but not aggressive. A nice dip in the asparagus season. With a asparagus granita or to accompany asparagus. Made with macerated asparagus then followed by a single distillation. The spirits of Asparagus aged for a minimum period of 6 years in stainless steel.
