Inverroche Gin is produced at the Inverroche Distillery in Still Bay, South Africa. This spirit is known for its unique use of indigenous botanicals, highlighting the rich diversity of the African landscape. Founded by Lorna and her son Rohan, their journey began with experimentation at the kitchen table, evolving over three years. Driven by a passion for craft spirits and a commitment to sustainability, Inverroche Gin has grown from a personal adventure into a recognised brand known for its quality and character.
