Cheval des Andes is a fusion between the renowned Saint-Emilion Premier Grand Cru Classé A: Château Cheval Blanc and Terrazas de los Andes, an Argentine winery specialized in Premium high altitude wines for more than two decades.

Such magical encounter results in a refined, subtle and complex “Grand Cru of the Andes” that combines the savoir-faire of the assemblage with French origin varieties planted in 1929 in the best high altitude terroirs of Mendoza. Las Compuertas, Luján de Cuyo.

Tasting Notes: This wine seduces with great aromatic intensity and exquisite gentleness provided by grape concentration coming from an exceptional terroir, a precise winemaking process and extended oak barrel aging.

Powerful and elegant. Cheval des Andes 2013 surprises for its balanced complexity, aromatic precision and presence of soft and delicate tannins. A wine with great personality and character.
